Voices from Africa – Dealing with the COVID-19 Pandemic

0 comments

Estimated reading time: 7 minutes

The COVID-19 pandemic has had a profound impact across Africa, and as governments, organisations and individuals react to the challenges presented by the pandemic we are continuously seeing everyday people adapt in a variety of ways.

We reached out to some of the alumni from LSE and The Programme for African Leadership to ask them to share their current experiences, how their countries have reacted to the COVID-19 response and what they think will be the biggest challenges moving forward.

You can view their responses below:
