Interdependence

as an impetus for co-operation

The Partnership provides a central mechanism for various actors from key organisations to come together with their complementary resources to make some governing decisions for the city.