

One-Day Colloquium on Italy's Approach to International Issues at the Centre of International Studies (CIS), University of Cambridge,
First Floor, 17 Mill Lane, Cambridge CB2 1RX, UK, Friday, 16th March 2007, 9.00 - 17.30
Supported by the Jean Monnet Centre for European Studies in the Centre of International Studies University of Cambridge

- 9.00 Registration and coffee
- 9.20 Welcome: Ludovica Marchi, Local Organiser
Geoffrey Edwards, University of Cambridge and the Italian Ambassador S.E. Giancarlo Aragona
- 9.30 Session 1 - What Debate is There in Italy on Foreign Policy?
Chair: Christopher Hill, University of Cambridge
Speakers:
▪ Roberto Menotti, Aspen Institute, Rome.– Debating foreign policy in Italy: between Atlanticism and European integration
▪ Federico Eichberg, Advisory Board of LiMes, Rome.– Debating old and new approaches to foreign policy
▪ Don Matteo Zuppi, Comunità di Sant'Egidio, Rome. – Unconventional actors in foreign policy and their contribution to the domestic debate
Discussant: Paul Furlong, Cardiff University
- 11.00 Coffee break
- 11.15 Session 2 - Looking South not Forgetting North
Chair: George Joffe, University of Cambridge
Speakers:
▪ Fabrizio Tassinari, Centre for European Policy Studies (CEPS). – From Barcelona to Brussels: Italy, the Mediterranean, and the wider European Neighbourhood
▪ Germano Dottori, LUISS University, Rome.– Italy and the challenge of mass migration: risks and opportunities. A test for Europe
Discussant: Esther Barbé, University of Barcelona
- 12.45 End of the morning session
- 14.00 Session 3 - Aspects of Security
Chair: Andrea Sangiovanni, Pembroke College, Cambridge
Speakers:
▪ Lucio Martino, Centro Militare di Studi Strategici (CeMiSS), Rome, and Giovanni Gasparini, Istituto Affari Internazionali (IAI), Rome. – Italian perspectives on the changing strategic environment of the Mediterranean region
▪ Alberto DeBenedictis, Finmeccanica UK. – Finmeccanica: a security player?
Discussant: Geoffrey Edwards, University of Cambridge
- 15.30 Coffee break
- 15.45 Session 4 - Looking Ahead
Chair: Julie Smith, University of Cambridge
Speakers:
▪ Antonio Missiroli, European Policy Centre, Brussels. – An Italian perspective
▪ John Peet, Europe Editor, The Economist. – An English view
Discussant: Richard Whitman, University of Bath
- 17.15 Final remarks

The Colloquium is sponsored by

Directions to CIS: <http://www.cam.ac.uk/map/v3/drawmap.cgi?mp=mill;xx=191;yy=94;mt=c>
To contact the Local Organiser: Lmb7979@gmail.com