

International Development alumnus discusses green technology

Anne McIvor graduated from the MSc Development Management programme in 1998. She went on to found Cleantech Investor, a consultancy service for clean technology companies seeking investment.

Read Anne's interview in LSE Green News, where she talks about how studying International Development at LSE inspired her interest in green technology.

60 Second Interview

with.....Anne McIvor

Anne is an LSE alumna who graduated with an MSc in Development Management in 1998. Anne is founder of Cleantech Investor, which provides consultancy services to clean technology companies seeking investment, publishes Cleantech magazine, which focuses on investment in 'clean technologies' and runs events on related themes.

---

July 29th, 2014 | Department Alumni | 0 Comments

---

⌵

