

African Politics, African Peace: Report submitted to the African Union by the World Peace Foundation

African Politics, African Peace charts an agenda for peace in Africa, focusing on how the African Union can implement its norms and use its instruments to prevent and resolve armed conflicts. It is an independent report of the World Peace Foundation, supported by the African Union.

The Report is the most extensive review of the African Union's peace missions ever conducted. It is based on detailed case studies and cross-cutting research, and draws on consultations with leading experts, peacekeepers, and mediators. It covers African peace and security norms and mechanisms, including conflict prevention, conflict mediation, political missions and the spectrum of military peace operations.

"Peace missions" include political engagement and peace support operations.

This project was supported by the Danish Ministry of Foreign Affairs, Swedish Ministry of Foreign Affairs, the Carnegie Corporation of New York, and the World Peace Foundation.

To download the report please click here or to see the background papers that informed it please click here.

---

Note: This article gives the views of the authors, and not the position of the Justice and Security Research Programme, nor of the London School of Economics.

---

December 4th, 2016 | Aid, Development, Featured, Security | 0 Comments

